About the Society

Peach City Community Radio Society (PCCRS) is a registered, non-profit society registered with the Province of British Columbia. The society is currently working towards obtaining a CRTC license, a broadcast station location in Penticton BC, a broad base of trained volunteers and the funds required to facilitate a full-time on-air broadcast via FM radio and online streaming.

The current members are a group of passionate volunteers motivated to provide fresh and unique radio broadcasting for Penticton area residents. Programming will showcase the works of local musicians, artists, writers and authors - anyone who contributes to the well-being of the community.

The PCCRS mandate is to reflect the needs and interests of listeners. It will offer training opportunities to teach members to become community broadcasters. Community members are encouraged to use their passion, community pride and skills to build comprehensive programming for Penticton.

PCCRS goals include:

- Raising awareness of local issues that current private radio does not have the ability to cover in depth
- Being a voice for the disenfranchised and marginalized groups in our city with proactive outreach programs
- To be an advocate for children and youth
- To showcase events in our community
- Providing an educational component to better inform listeners of local and world events
- Launching the careers of would-be announcers by providing professional training to dramatically raise each person's confidence and self-esteem
- Acting as the ears and voice of our community;
- Giving people of all political stripes an opportunity to be heard
- Promoting small businesses that are the key to making Penticton distinct and vibrant.

Society Structure

PCCRS is run entirely by its dedicated group of members. Members design and broadcast their show ideas, help with fundraisers, help with administration, help at events, and with new content. Members agree to follow the guidelines listed in this membership policy to uphold the constitution of the Society and to comply with the bylaws of the Society. A copy of this document, the PCCRS Constitution and Bylaws are available upon request.
